CAUSE

On September 8, 2006, Mr. Guzman was observed by the Washington State Patrol driving eastbound on Interstate 90, and unable to remain in his lane of travel. Subsequently, he was stopped by a state trooper. When contacting the defendant he placed his vehicle in reverse and almost hit the state patrol vehicle. content test and was booked into the Spokane County Jail, charged with driving while intoxicated and unsafe/improper lane travel. It should be noted during this process, Mr. Guzman made vulgar comments to the trooper and informed that he was going to fight everything.

Mr. Guzman has struggled with maintaining employment during the period of supervision and is currently unemployed. Additionally, his residence is questionable due to not being on a lease and has been unable to receive mail where he is staying. The undersigned officer has contacted Mr. Guzman's attorney, Gregory Scott, and discussed this matter, along with the modifications. Given his current lack of stability, the above modification is justified not only as a sanction for his actions, but will allow for more intense structured supervision and limit his actions in the community.

Respectfully submitted,
